

Job Description – C50 VVIP Inflight Chef

We are hiring: C50 VVIP Inflight Chef – an elite role at the intersection of haute cuisine and global travel.

What We Offer

Join our C50 Elite Culinary Ambassador Program – become one of the very few VVIP Inflight Chefs in the world.

At CLOUD50, part of the renowned TCA Group with Michelin-starred heritage and global hospitality expertise, we are revolutionizing private aviation gastronomy. Through our exclusive program, we recruit, train, and deploy chefs of the highest caliber onto long-range private aircraft, creating dining experiences that redefine what inflight cuisine can be.

This is not just a job – it is a lifestyle at the crossroads of haute cuisine, long-haul aviation, and cultural exploration.

Highlights of what you can expect:

- Be part of a program that is redefining the market, raising the standard for VVIP Inflight Chefs worldwide.
- Backed by the strength of the TCA Group – from Michelin-starred expertise to luxury hospitality innovation.
- Cook for influential clients on the most exclusive private jets in the world.
- Create bespoke menus and deliver show-stopping culinary experiences at 40,000 feet.
- Live a lifestyle that blends fine dining, global travel, and cultural discovery.
- Grow continuously through advanced training in culinary innovation, service excellence, and intercultural communication.
- Work within a flat, supportive hierarchy with a yes-we-can mindset and hands-on leadership.

Job Summary

As a C50 VVIP Inflight Chef, you are part of CLOUD50's Elite Culinary Ambassador Program and represent the brand at the highest international level. The role combines hands-on culinary excellence with the responsibility of acting as an ambassador for CLOUD50 and the wider TCA Group.

You will design bespoke menus, source exceptional products, and execute dishes with uncompromising quality – from preparation to presentation at altitude. Each assignment requires precision, creativity, and the ability to produce at the highest standard in select kitchens worldwide, ensuring an inflight experience that exceeds expectations.

Beyond the culinary craft, you serve as a trusted host and partner: working seamlessly with flight crews, engaging respectfully with clients, and showcasing CLOUD50's values through professionalism, discretion, and innovation.

This position is both demanding and rewarding – offering the opportunity to deliver Michelin-level dining on long-range aircraft while shaping the future of private aviation gastronomy as one of very few VVIP Inflight Chefs in the world.

Main Duties & Responsibilities

- Menu Planning & Development – design bespoke menus tailored to client requests and destinations.
- Procurement & Logistics – coordinate sourcing, manage special requests, and handle premium packaging.
- Preparation & Cooking – mise en place, production, plating, and live execution onboard.
- Food Safety & Quality – ensure HACCP compliance, hygiene, and allergen management.
- Client Interaction – act as a host and storyteller for guests, crew, and customers.
- Concierge Role – fulfill last-minute requests and unique sourcing challenges.
- Showcasing & Representation – embody CLOUD50's culinary vision in front of clients and partners.
- Documentation – maintain recipes, costs, and operational reports.
